Council Sanctions Raffle For Junior Weekend

The Junior Class's request to sell raffle tickets on-campus was the main issue discussed in the Student Council's meeting last Tuesday night. Permission was ultimately granted following a lengthy debate.

Jim DesRoches, Junior Class President, introduced the motion that the class be granted permission to sell raffle tickets for a high-fidelity console on-campus. In speaking for the motion, DesRoches explained that tickets had already been sold off-campus during the Christmas vacation. Returns had not been as good as expected and the Juniors were seeking an increase in revenue by selling chances on-campus. The head of the third year men pointed out that Juniors circulating among underclassmen had found them not only receptive to the idea of chances being sold on-campus but in many cases expressed a desire that the Juniors do so.

The validity of the raffle was immediately challenged by George Latimer, senior representative. Latimer contested the Juniors had already infringed upon the Council's authority by selling chances off-campus without first obtaining permission and should receive punitive rather than

Trinity Show Now On WSSE

It was announced by John Monroe, president of the radio club, that once more we will be entertained by students of Trinity College.

The Trinity girls will be heard on the campus radio station on Thursday night of this week from 8 to 9 o'clock. This program will be followed, perhaps, by two programs in each week to come. They plan to take over on Tuesday and Wednesday nights. One program will be comprised of the top tunes of the day and the other program will concentrate on the Broadway hits and touch upon the old standards.

This will be the first time that femininity has handled our microphones since last year, when the attempt proved to be quite a success and appreciated by the Michaelmen who were not located in the fringe areas. The programs last year were interesting and made quite a hit with most of the guys. We repeat the sentiments of John Monroe in hoping this year's presentation will be as interesting as that of last year.

John Donoghue Named To ACPRA Executive Board

John D. Donoghue, Public Relations Director for St. Michael's College, has been named to the Executive Board of the New England section of The American College Public Relations Association. He was also elected Director-Elect, succeeding Mr. John Mattil who is at present Director of Publications at MIT.

This position places Mr. Donoghue next in line for the Presidency of the New England Public Relations Association. His new post, which is of one year's duration will demand that he direct the staging of the forth-coming N.E.P.R.A. convention to be held one year from now in Vermont for the first time. The city of Burlington, with St. Michael's College acting as host, will welcome the Public Relations Representatives.

Mr. Donoghue attended the annual meeting last week at MIT to begin formulating plans for this convention.

Mr. Donoghue is originally from Springfield, Mass. He is a graduate of St. Michael's class of 1932 during which he was active in extra-curricular activities being editor for two years of the Purple and Gold, which is now the Lance. He is also founder of the MICHAELMAN.

Aside from his duties as Public Relations Director, Glee Club Director, and honorary Editor of the MICHAELMAN, Mr. Donoghue is active in civic affairs. He is at present, School Director in South Burlington and choir director for St. Joseph's church in Burlington.

Debate Club Plans Active Semester

by Dave LeMarche

The Newman Debate Club of St. Michael's College announced their second semester tournaments and plans last Thursday at the weekly meeting. The first of such will be a novice round robin tournament at Norwich on February 6. Other colleges participating in this tournament will be Dartmouth, St. Anselm's, U.V.M., and Middlebury.

INTER-CLASS DEBATES

Closely following the Norwich round robin the debating club will sponsor the annual inter-class debate tournament which will be held during the last week in February. The general chairmen for this tourney are Hank Fortier with Fred Englert, Charlie McManus, Paul LoRusso, Ed Biron, Joe Mastromotto, Paul Fisher, and Dave LaMarche heading the various committees. As in previous years the individual prizes for the best speakers will be given and the winning class will receive the usual points toward the "Knight Trophy." It was announced by Mr. Fortier that in a few days circulars will be sent to every student describing the tourney and the topic. It is hoped that many will try out for the class teams in order that each class will have a team prior to the Mid-Winter vacation.

SMC NOVICE TOURNAMENT

On March 7th and 8th the club will sponsor its annual novice tournament on campus but this year enlarging it into a two day affair. Such schools as U.N.H., Dartmouth, St. A's, Middlebury, Norwich, U.V.M., and St. Michael's will

SNEA To Establish Honor Group

by Jerry Snilgin

Last Friday evening the Mortimer Adler Chapter of the Student Education Association voted unanimously to establish an Honorary Club of Education majors called Kappa Phi Kappa.

BENEFICIAL GROUP

Kappa Phi Kappa is a nationwide organization which is highly recognized throughout the country as beneficial to aspiring future leaders and is also very active in public social work. Before being formed it must be approved by Fr. Dupont, Academic Dean, who is presently considering it.

This plan has been brought up at several meetings in the last year, but only in the last two or three months has it been acted upon. Mr. Moran, head of the Education Department, has been very active in organizing this plan.

Potsdam Jazz Quintet To Play At Carnival

Instead of listening to the soft strains of dance music on Saturday night, February 1, those attending the annual Winter Carnival will be listening and dancing to the Jazz and Dixieland stylings of John Morris and the Potsdam Jazz Quintet. The main ball will be held instead on Friday night, January 31, at the Winooski Armory from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

JAZZ GROUP

The Potsdam Jazz Quintet is composed of students from Potsdam State Teachers College. It is made up of piano, saxophone, bass, drums and trombone for which the Carnival committee has appropriated and agreed upon with the band to pay $260.

LONGER DANCE

This reason for this change from the usual procedure, co-chairmen Joe Tivolacci and J. Leo Fortin explained was that the main ball could play until one o'clock or later Friday night instead of closing up at twelve o'clock Saturday night because of the laws prohibiting dancing on Sunday.

Chairmen of the Jazz Concert Committee said that ample room would be available for those wishing to dance as well as listen.

Chris Powers

The band, Fallon said, is well known throughout New England colleges having just finished engagements at Bates, St. Anselm's, and the University of New Hampshire. Styled after Claud Thornhill's band they have accompanied such entertainers as the Four Lads at the Commodore Ballroom where they are regularly featured and Richard Heyman on his harmonica. They have also made recent guest appearances at the Rhodes in Providence, The Lincoln Park in New Bedford and the Mountain Park in Holyoke.

"This can't help but be a successful weekend," said Phelan "because we have great entertainers lined up for the Jazz Concert and Ball. Chris Powers has played in the Claud Thornhill's band and has in his band others who played with the Dorsey brothers. Then the Jazz group comes from such bands as Stan Kenton's and has played in Miami, New York and television.

"Collegiate" Theme For Knightlights

Knightlights of '58 directed by the Very Rev. Edward A. Leary, S.S.E., will be held on March 14 or 15 during Parents Weekend in the Burlington High School Auditorium for the benefit of the Champlain Association for Retarded Children.

COLLEGIATE THEME

A collegiate theme has been chosen for the '58 Knightlights. The imaginary campus where the action will take place is that of Kellogg College. The show will consist of four acts, each of the acts portraying a typical scene found around the average college campus. The show will contain ten original songs written by students here on campus.

Where To From Here?

Our world is troubled. There is continual talk of H-bombs, missiles, and rockets from every corner of the globe.

Today, there is no war; instead, tension, anxiety, fear and distrust, everywhere. This is shown in our mode of living, the importance of materialism to many and in our every increasing juvenile delinquency rate. There is even talk of mass destruction, and complete oblivion on the tongues of college students.

Where is this all leading? It leads many to tension, insecurity; it stifles productive growth, and our whole world seems to be preparing for a terrible, destructive end. All through history war has always seemed the means to a better end by those who ruled. This has been tried time and time again and has never proved successful in making the world a healthier, safer place in which to live.

Why not try the other alternative, peace? This seems all too seldom practiced, though often thought of, as a means of finding a way to a harmonious world. True, it is easier to have a war than it is to work for peace, but a true lasting peace, has a much greater reward than does war. War brings no end to suffering, to the contrary, it brings more anguish on many more persons and still no solution to man's problems has ever been obtained by it.

So at the beginning of 1958 it may be a good resolution for all those in high places to reflect for a moment on this question: "Where do we go from here?"

Political War Brewing

It is interesting and gratifying to note that Vermont's politics are becoming increasingly democratic. There has long been a need for more public participation in state politics, particularly in the nomination of candidates. Until recently the nominating convention functioned solely as a rubber stamp to approve the candidate previously selected by a meeting of the state's "Mr. Bigs". This shabby system has in the past resulted in the election of mediocre individuals devoted to holding the line against progress and competitive industry; and hence to preserving the favorable position enjoyed by the state's few big businesses; marble companies, dairy corporations, and textile mills. This year, however, a change has taken place, already the leading Republicans have announced their candidature, and will vie with one another for the four prime offices available in November. Vermonters will get a chance to enjoy the rare spectacle of a knock-down, drag-out battle for the nominations. This is a very healthy sign. If this proves to be a permanent development, it is a long step towards the overthrow of the ultra-conservative influence in state politics, and the emergence of a much-needed two-party system.

Question of the Week, as answered by two army veterans now attending St. Michael's College.

Lt. General Gavin, commanding general in charge of the 'Army Missile Programs', made the following statement last week to newsmen as he resigned; "The United States Army is deteriorating in some respects". Comment!

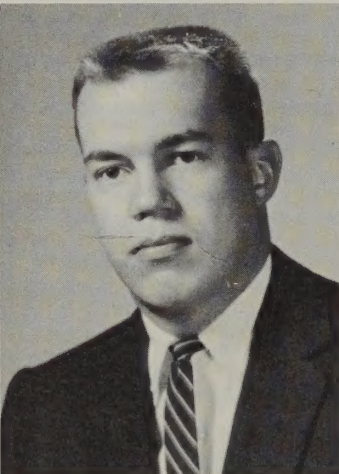

Senior: John Morrissey, Babylon, L.I., N.Y.

In my opinion the statement is unquestionably correct, but to determine if this is a dangerous condition (considering the roles of the other services) is beyond my ability. Obviously the General feels that it is dangerous and considering his reputation, his remarks should be carefully considered. His further remarks concerning the appalling lack of decisiveness and slowness in decision-making even now, will, I hope; add weight to the demands for a single authority to rule on both inter and intra service rivalries.

Junior: Bernard Starr, Barre, Vermont

Simple discipline will prevent the deterioration of an Army. In the case of General Gavin, it is discipline on a higher level. The General is a man of insight and understanding of what must be accomplished now, not in the future. But being a nonconformist he will not be allowed to survive; political wise, that is.

James Gafga

Approximately 65 members of the Senior class attended the funeral of their classmate James Gafga, in Russell, Mass., Monday morning. Fr. Coombs, Dean of Men, and Fr. Paulin, moderator of the Senior class, also attended, representing the administration and faculty of St. Michael's.

An honor student and intramural athlete, Gafga was to have graduated this spring. He had been in the hospital since the Christmas holidays. He died of cancer, on Friday, Jan. 17. James was 22. May his soul rest in peace.

Let's Help Ourselves

There exists at St. Michael's a misleading attitude and a misunderstanding of the term, school spirit. If one went around to different students on this campus and asked them what they meant by school spirit, he would very probably receive several different explanations. Why? This can be answered in a very few words. These different opinions are a direct cause of the complacency of the individual students here at St. Michael's. Take for an example the words used in the last sentence. Ask yourself if you know the meaning of every word in that sentence. If you didn't understand the words used, did you look them up in a dictionary? The true, but sad, answer would almost be universal, NO!

The same situation prevails in the meaning of school spirit, except in a slightly different manner. To understand fully and correctly what school spirit means, one does not go to the dictionary to find the meaning, but he participates in school activities and functions. This type of participation is very minute and seldom done. You owe it to yourself, if you feel you don't owe it to the school, to at least make an attempt to better yourself and your activities. A large majority of students at this college don't realize the opportunities offered to them.

Gentlemen, it is about time that everyone of us realize that we are very lucky to be in college. So let's all start the new year off right by making a resolution, one that we will honestly try to keep, "LET'S HELP OURSELVES and EVERYONE ELSE BY TAKING A ACTIVE PART IN ACHOOL ACTIVITIES."

Socialism And The Chair

Recent activities at a University in Waltham, Massachusetts, are of grave concern to those that hold that God is the source of the right of private property and that this right is seential to man's freedom. The University officials have announced through the Jewish Advocate of Boston that a Chair is to be named for "Socialist leader Morris Hilquit." Hilquit is a professed Darwinist agnostic, follower of the Manifesto of Marx and Engels and opposed the theological school of thinkers of which St. Augustine, the medieval monk Ambrose, and especially Thomas Aquinas are classical exponents....who assume that there is a universal standard of right and wrong (Socialism in Theory and Practice). It comes as no surprise that the former active supporter of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade, Eleanor Roosevelt, is leading the drive for funds. But it does come as an outrage to God-loving members of the student community that this action will be identified always with a University that will be the Alma Mater of not only the duped but other American, Catholics, Protestants and Jews, like ourselves.

supporting measures. "When Fr. Moriarty addressed the Council", DesRoches replied, he stated that no raffles be held on-campus without the Council's sanction. We therefore didn't consider it an infringement to sell chances at home during the Christmas holidays and are now asking for the Council's permission to sell chances to the student body".

Debate continued on this distinction and other phases of the issue with Chairman Lee exercising excellent control to prevent personal conflicts. The final note showed a solid majority in favor of granting the permission.

Earlier in the meeting, the Council was addressed by Mr. Lionel Simard of the faculty. The language professor requested the Council recognize the Spanish and German clubs, which have been functioning under his supervision since September, as Organized Clubs. After outlining the activities carried on thus far and the program for the future, he submitted the questioning by members.

It was brought out that these clubs as yet do not have student officers, a requirement for an Organized Club. The request was therefore ruled out of order, to be re-submitted after this requirement has been met.

compete for the tournament trophy and gain the title of the champion novice team in New Hampshire and Vermont. Some 45 debaters and coaches will be attending the banquet on Saturday to end the annual affair. Charlie Messenger was selected as general chairman and all other novices will act as committee workers to make this a beneficial tournament not only for the club but for the college as well. Announcements will be made concerning the tourney at a later date.

To sum up the semester, the varsity team will attend the Sienna tourney in March and the annual New England tour in April. St. Michael's has competed in the Sienna tourney for many years and shows an impressive record each year. It is hoped that again this year the varsity team will finish high among the other 20 colleges attending.

NEW ENGLAND TOUR
The New England tour is an annual affair for this club and it is expected they will compete against such schools as Holy Cross, Assumption, M. I. T., Harvard, Emerson, Brown, Providence College, Amherst, U. of Mass., and the several smaller colleges in the Springfield area.

The debating teams are presently holding a 500 average and it is expected of every member to better this record and the debating year in May with a record better than previous years.

KNIGHTLIGHTS

Jim Aquino, Bill Hoenig, Mike Crane, Jack Donohue, and Ed Lynch. There were many tentative plans made at this meeting. Along with the Michaelmen there will be young ladies from Trinity, UVM and local misses appearing in the production. Music will also be provided by a chorus of approximately twenty Michaelmen.

TO CONSTRUCT WORKSHOP

Mr. Wm. Devlin of Essex Junction who is President of the Champlain Association for Retarded Children met with Father Leary, Father Gopaul and Father Ryan to discuss organization of the show for the benefit of the retarded children. The money obtained will be used to construct a Shelter-Workshop, with the purpose of teaching them a trade.

Casting Begins For Passion Play

By Gene Violette

Casting for the Passion Play, to be presented on Palm Sunday, will begin immediately after quarterly examinations are over. The play, Shekels, which was a huge success last year, is produced by the Knights and Knaves and directed by Dr. Armando Citarella, Moderator of the Club.

The production is once again sponsored by the Holy Name Society of Burlington for the benefit of the Catholic Central High School fund of this city. Revenue from the Play went to the Fund last year.

The site for the presentation has not as yet been determined, according to Knights & Knaves president, John Haggerty. John expects to find out in the near future whether it will be held in the Burlington High School Auditorium or in Memorial Auditorium, as it was last year.

The "Mob-scene" of the Passion Play requires nearly a hundred actors and that is why casting must start early. Some of the main parts are open this year since they were held by last year's seniors. Jerry Cafarelli, '59, is again expected to play "Judas", as well as George Latimer, '58, as Peter, and Maxine Kaiser, a graduate of Trinity College, as the "Virgin Mary."

Scenery setting of the '57 production will be used once again. This setting was designed specifically for "Shekels" by Donald Rathgeb, formerly Technical Supervisor for Player's Incorporated. It consists of one background scene composed of four levels, which can be used throughout the five acts of the play. Always using the same background, scene shifts are effected by indirect lighting and the change of a few minor props. This enables the presentation of Shekels with a greater ease and eliminates many technical problems.

John Haggerty stated that there would be some changes in the setting this year, but these would be minor alterations. It was Haggerty who constructed the background setting from Rathgeb's blue prints.

The prayers of the student body are asked for the repose of the soul of Rev. Fr. Doyle, priest of the diocese of Ogdensburg, N.Y., who died during the Christmas vacation. A well known graduate of St. Michael's and member of her Philosophy faculty, Fr. Doyle later taught in Wadsham Hall in Ogdensburg and was Pastor of a church in that diocese. He was renowned as one of the outstanding orators of the North Country. May he rest in peace.

(Figured we'd say that, didn't you?) Luckies, you see, mark you as a man who really knows his brands. Have 'em handy, and you'll be considered a Shrewd Dude! Dubious distinction, maybe—but you've still got the cigarette that's light as they come! Luckies are made of naturally light, wonderfully good-tasting tobacco, toasted to taste even better. Try 'em right now!

The Broken Fungo

By Vin Farrell

After reviewing Clifford's Kake Walkers at five o'clock in the morning, I realize the values of the Spartan life here at Presque Isle. But I am aiming my novelette this week at those of us who go for the more relaxing things of life; namely "Lawrence Welk's Storyville". Now that we are back from the Holiday Whirl, during which I was fortunate enough to attend the N.Y.-N.J. Coming Out Party, complete with "Schryver and Strings." Also on the "Orchid List" were the "Angelic Eight" with Fitzie on clavichord. Tell Ray Conniff to go back to Terry and the pirates.

Don't think I have forgotten the Basketball Festival. It was not Divine Providence that drew us Providence, but then those Thomists are hard to beat -- Right, Mr. B? But as "Abe" Jacobs moved his charges up the Timber Line, the Knights proved they are to be contended with in that Geometric Wonder called Municipal Auditorium. Led by casual Jimmie Browne and Tricky Nicky (Thank you, Frank Balch). Chanting "Get this one for the General", we won our own tournament. It is told in pulsating style by Damon Breagy. Our boys are to be lauded for their recovery in the snow. In the words of W.R.H., "It was grand".

I will now delve into the reasons why you should attend the Winter Carnival. It's for a good cause --- Peacock needs cigarettes. No, really the Outing Club has worked hard, why even "Cuddles" Henneberry has eye-strain from trying to pick the Queen. Doyle is even off the pad doing his bit. Seriously, reports I've gathered make me think it will be a bang-up affair. (No, you can pay me later, Cash!)

Super Sub!

It's been said that the atomic submarine "Nautilus" stays submerged so long that it only surfaces to let the crew re-enlist. Perhaps for this reason, the Navy has taken valuable space aboard the "Nautilus" for the only soft-drink vending machine in the entire submarine fleet. Naturally (or you wouldn't hear about it from us) it's a Coca-Cola machine. And not unexpectedly, re-enlistments are quite respectable. Rugged lot, those submariners. Great drink, Coke!

SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

St Michael's Builds Rifle Range

Interest in shooting has become so keen that St. Michael's College has built a new rifle range. It was opened this week as Harvard downed St. Michael's in the first match.

The 50 foot range in the basement of Ryan Hall has five positions. It was designed by Capt. Vernon D. Gores of the Air Force ROTC faculty and was built by the college maintenance crew directed by Business Manager John Buchan. It will be available to the 750 students.

Earlier in the year, the college had to make provision for both a varsity and a jay-vee rifle team because of the number of candidates. St. Michael's location attracts many students whose hobbies tend to hunting and fishing.

Because he had previously built 11 other ranges, Capt. Gores was the key man. He has been coaching the varsity team and the AFROTC team, assisted by M/Sgt. John Lucas.

Except for his Christmas duties at home, Capt. Gores spent most of his holiday time working on the range and supervising its construction.

One feature of the range is the concrete lined pit from which students may shoot at about the same level they shoot in the kneeling position. Wooden hatchways open to permit shooting from the pit and close to allow firing from the prone position. Fifty candlepower lighting is uniform on all targets.

An open house for area press, radio and TV sports editors was held Thursday, January 16.

The Purple Knights of St. Michael's, after winning their own Invitational Tourney, continue to roll through New England. With wins over Northeastern, St. Lawrence and their recent win over A.I.C. 70-62, the Jacobsmen now carry an impressive record of 9 wins and 3 losses.

J. Browne	12	137	11.4
H. Gretkowski	12	132	11.1
D. Denmead	12	103	8.6

For those few who attended the St. Michael's recent and first annual Basketball Invitational Tournament all will attest to the fact that they witnessed some very exciting games.

Although the Knights had little trouble in subduing any of their three victims other games provided the fans with plenty of thrills. Probably the most popular team in the tournament after the first two days was the tiny Bowdoin Club coached by ex-Boston Celtic Bob Donham. So much were they everyone's sentimental favorite that the writers decided to give the Sportmanship Award to them rather than to an individual player.

At the opening it appeared that St. Michael's, Vermont and St. Anselm's were the class of the tournament but the latter had the misfortune of running into the Catamounts on one of their hottest afternoons. Vermont won 99-78 with Clyde Lord and Bob Gallagher both scoring over 20 points in the victory. The Hawks were thus knocked out right away. They went on to cop fifth place and the consolation trophy.

Vermont after their tremendous victory over St. Anselm's looked a poor imitation of themselves on the following day. Adelphi who had beaten Williams by seven points in the opening round would not be denied and they outran the Catamounts in the second half to eliminate them. Bob Popko's 24 points proved the difference in the Panther win.

St. Michael's in the meantime was busy beating Bowdoin and American International. Their victory 72-60 over AIC was a bigger one than the score indicates. The Knights passing was never sharper as they set up some of the best scoring plays seen in the auditorium all season. Zeitler and Gretkowski controlled the boards throughout the game.

Adelphi then, with their surprising win over Vermont went into the final as a heavy underdog. Local writers picked the Knights by 12. They were justified in their choice as the host club ran away 77-57 in one of the best team efforts of the season. Zeitler's 26, Nicodemo's 17 and Gretkowski's 17 gave St. Michael's well-rounded scoring while the story on the backboards was much the same.

A.I.C. GAME

In their latest outing of the season the Knights out-pointed A.I.C. for the second time this year, leaving them with a record of 1-12.

Leading at half time 34-26, the Michaelmen came on the floor and soon found themselves behind by four points. The score continued back and forth for the first part of the second half. Then coach Jacobs went to his bench, which had helped many times before this year. This time it was big Dave Mracek, who scored all of his eleven points in the second half, getting five from the free line. "Tiger" Nicodemo, who scored eleven of his 17 in the second half combined with Hank Gretkowski to hold scoring honors for St. Michael's. Captain, Drew Denmead picked up 15 points in the first half but was held scoreless in the second.

HIGH SCORER

Dick Kross proved to be high scorer again, being held to only 29 points (38 against Holy Cross the night before) Harry Duzinsky combined sets and jump shots to pick up 12 of his 14 points in the second half for A.I.C.

Half: St. Mikes' 34 AIC 26

The most thrilling tilt of the tournament was the Bowdoin-Williams game which Bowdoin won 74-73. At halftime the Polar Bears were down by 19 points and after four of the second half, down by 25. With 54 points in the second half they put on a tremendous scoring spree to win the game.

Individually the outstanding performances of the tournament were turned in by Dick Zeitler who won the most valuable player award, Jeff Morton of Williams who, although his team lost all three games and finished eighth, scored 84 points. Morton threw 38 against St. Anselm's. Bob Barrett of St. A's turned in one of the greatest all-around efforts. His 74 points and consistent rebounding were the talk of the coaches and writers. He hit for 33 in the Williams game. Elf Stover of Bowdoin, Dick Kross of American Int'l and UVM's Clyde Lord also received raves.
